GTO, Inc. announces the release of its New Professional Market Web Site for GTO Access Systems

Tallahassee, FL – June 3, 2009 – GTO Inc under its GTO Access Systems brand launches a new website for its professional market distributors and dealers at www.gtoaccess.com or www.gtopro.com with an exciting new look. “The GTO Access Systems web site was completely redesigned to focus on the needs of our professional customer, based on input we received from them,” said Kevin Peaden, Vice President of Sales. The new site reflects GTO's continued commitment, as the industry leader in DC Powered Gate Automation and Access Controls, to provide innovative, high quality and reliable products for the professional market.

“We designed the GTO Access Systems site around the needs our professional customers and the information they need for their customers,” said Brian Campbell, IT Director. The New GTO Access Systems site is more informative and easier to use. The site features GTO’s new GP series, Commercial/Residential Gate Operators, which offer the industry’s first Brushless DC Powered Maintenance Free Motors as well as up to date information on all new products from GTO Access Systems. The site has print ready b/w specification sheets for dealer sales and job site quotations. Customers searching for the right access control and accessory can use the new interactive job site map. The site provides 24-Hour/ 7-Day a week Technical support, a Media Gallery and a Distributor/Dealer page.

Since 1987 GTO has been a leading manufacturer of DC Powered Gate Operators and Access Systems to the professional market for Residential and Commercial applications. The new GTO Access web site interface easily accommodates increased traffic as GTO continues to expand its professional market. The new website reflects GTO's continued excellence in delivering superior Automatic Gate Access Systems and services.
